Bringing Peace to Individuals, Families, Communities and Nations

Date: August 19th 2024

Mr. Steve Forbes

Chairman and Editor-in-Chief of Forbes Media

Dear Steve,

It's my distinct privilege and honor to inform you that you've been awarded a Global Peace Prize for your remarkable accomplishments as a real-world thought leader. As only one example of many, your very informed column on India's politically driven currency crisis opened many eyes.

We desire to formally present the prestigious award to you at our upcoming Global Peace and Economic Summit in Los Angeles on Mahatma Gandhi's birthday on October 2nd, 2024. The host committee also invites you exclusively to give the keynote address to the entire Indian media and the rest of the watching world.

It's a far different world than it was when we met in your New York offices in 2002. You and I know that as goes America, so goes the world. God has blessed me with a key strategy to that end that I need to urgently discuss with you, but more on that when we speak.

Meanwhile, you should know history was just made in what is commonly referred to as the world's largest Democracy, when all 12 of India's major political party Members of Parliament gathered on August 8th, 2024, in the Capital city of New Delhi, to unanimously and enthusiastically agree to partner with the U.S. (the world's second largest democracy) to host this unprecedented Global Peace and Economic Summit.

I certainly don't need to remind you just how urgent it is to discuss steps toward peace on the world stage at this increasingly precarious moment in time. God willing, this will be the ideal setting and moment in time for you to deliver a heartfelt message promoting peace, love, and unity, which brings prosperity and happiness to all people of all nationalities, political persuasions, and faiths.

Sir, the world is desperate to hear from you on this all-important topic.

The Global Peace Prize ceremony will be led by Dr. KA Paul, Global Peace Initiative president. Along with the large Indian delegation traveling to the U.S. will be many key political, cultural, and business leaders attending the event from all over the world.

The Peace Summit will be co-hosted by each of the major Indian political party leaders, including the ruling National BJP Party leader, Congress Party leaders, and the honorable Chief Minister of Telangana State in Hyderabad, India, Revanth Reddy. Enclosed is a short video invitation from them to you, particularly the invitation from Prime Minister Modi's political leader, current Member of Parliament and former BJP party president, Mr. Parshottam Rupala.

The Global Peace Prize has previously been given over the past 28 years to distinguished leaders such as King Carlos of Spain, five-time Heavyweight Boxing Champion and Global Peace Ambassador Evander Holyfield, Ethiopian President Girma Wolde-Giorgis, former Prime Minister of India H. D. Deve Gowda, and legendary Indian activist, singer, and poet Gaddar, among others.

The Global Peace and Economic Summit will be broadcast and streamed to all 197 nations and at least 1 billion viewers worldwide. Not only will your timely message impact and influence leaders around the world, but most importantly you will influence some 5 million Indian American voters who can influence a minimum of 10 million additional U.S. voters.

We also invite you to personally share your vision of how to better foster peace and what role technology and business leaders can play in a roundtable discussion attended by world political, business and spiritual leaders and celebrities. The world needs competent leadership in business and communications like never before.

Enclosed are just a few video endorsements from key individuals who like so many of us declare that enough is enough — that peace is the path — and that the world has had enough endless war. Like you, we have seen enough bloodshed, trillions of dollars wasted, tens of millions lives lost and millions of orphans and widows who are created regularly through these man-made, completely avoidable wars, wars that are about to get a lot worse if we don't come together now while we still can.

Your consistent message of sensible, conservative solutions is much more needed today than ever in the history of the world. Therefore, your presence, message, and input are essential to save the world. Again, the date is October 2nd 2024, Mahatma Gandhi's birthday. Secure location to follow upon your acceptance.

Thank you very much. We are looking forward to your acceptance and support.

Yours for Global Peace & Prosperity

Dr K A Paul.
